

HEART FAILURE CAUSES DEATH AGED CITIZEN

L. F. Mann Drops Dead on Caddo Street While on Way Home; Came to City 16 Years Ago.

L. F. Mann, 56 year old, dropped dead on Caddo street at about 9:45 o'clock Monday night while going to his home at 201 Fourth avenue, northeast. Heart failure is said to be the cause of his sudden death.

Deceased came to Ardmore from Kentucky about 16 years ago and was one of the first men to enter business on Caddo street. At the time of his death he was operating a hamburger stand on East Broadway between Washington and Mill streets. With him were associated his two sons.

On April 18, 1885 he was married to Miss Alice Humphrey, and to them were born eight children, seven of whom survive, they being Mrs. Hattie Woods and Mrs. Birchie Sheridan of Chickasha; Jim Mann, Mrs. Donnie Nunn; Joe Mann, Mrs. Allie Nunn and Bonnie Mann, of Ardmore.

Funeral arrangements have not been completed, pending arrival of some of the children.

ALVA JAILS WON'T HOLD HAWK BROTHERS

ALVA—It seems that the county jail just won't hold these Hawk boys, Bert and Leo. They were arrested during the summer on charges of transporting "corn" and lodged in the jail in the basement of the court house. Sunday night during Chautauqua, they sawed away the bars over one of the windows and made their escape. They were recaptured about three weeks ago on a farm near Hardtner and returned to jail.

Saturday night, when Sheriff Hodgson was called to Deacons, he turned the jail keys over to Dad Campbell, caretaker at the court house. Later, Dad was called away and turned the keys over to a trusty in the jail.

According to the trusty, it was necessary for him to enter the cells when the Hawks pounced upon him, locked him in the cell and calmly walked away.

This is the third time, the Hawks have made an escape from the jail. About nine years ago, Bert Hawk dug through the wall behind a large calendar, entered the vault, unlocked it from the inside and walked away.

CLARK PAYNE SERIOUSLY ILL WITH DENGUE FEVER

Clark Payne, 11-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Payne was brought home from Sherman, Texas, last Saturday night seriously ill with dengue fever. He is much improved today, but is still quite ill. With Mrs. Payne Clark had gone to visit Mrs. Payne's mother, who had been ill, when he was taken down with the fever.

IN MEMORIAM.

J. M. Walker, a pioneer resident of this community died in an Oklahoma City hospital August 15, 1922.

Mr. Walker was born December 15, 1852 in Texas. He moved to what was then Indian Territory near Ardmore in 1887. Three years later he was married near Gainesville, Cook county, Texas to Miss Annie Walker of Ardmore.

Seven children were born to this union all of whom still survive. They are Clarence Walker, of Marlow, Okla., Mrs. Joe Johnson of Wilson, Okla., and Avery, Veda, Esther and Lester who live with their mother at Oil City, Oklahoma.

Mr. Walker was a member of the Church of Christ and a member of the school board at the time of his death. "Mourn not the dead who calmly lie. By God's own hand composed to rest. For hark! A voice from yonder sky Proclaims them best—supremely blest.

SENATOR OWEN ROUSED INTEREST WITH SPEECH

income and inheritance act, and lowering the tariff on necessities.

He then charged the republicans of watching the dollar and paying little heed to human life, pointing out that each of the republican administration tended to aid the moneyed man, while each act of the democratic was of direct benefit to the general mass of people.

Worst Has Been Done

"The worst has been done, now," he said. "They can't do anything worse you are right down on the ground, and it will be some time before you get up. Don't get discouraged, however, things can't be worse."

"The country is gradually getting better," he continued; "the gain is steady, but it is slow, despite the leadership. Such times as we are having and have just come through can't be repeated. The federal reserve deposits are getting larger, and the farm loan fund is growing steadily."

Supports Jack Walton

"I am for Jack Walton for he is for the people," Senator Owen said. "They say that Jack is no democrat, but it took a republican to say that. Walton was reelected city commissioner then mayor, then delegate to the democratic convention at San Francisco—and all the time the party called him a democrat."

"They say he isn't a democrat because the socialists are voting for him. Well, talking about votes I haven't forgotten that Harold vote for Victor Berger." Prejudice broke loose in the audience.

He took up the Shawnee platform and quoted Walton as saying that he believes in an equitable distribution of state funds where they will benefit the people; and he read from the state constitution, section 32, which permits the states to embark on any business project. The latter was in refuting the charge of state owned and operated mills, elevators, warehouses, etc. He then touched on the $1,000 exemption.

Walton's Wife Catholic

The speaker asked if it were a crime or an offense for a young woman of Catholic belief to love a democrat and later marry him? "This is what happened to Jack Walton," he responded. "His present wife thought so much of him that she consented to be married by a civil officer, and forego the bane of the Catholic church. And Jack Walton is a Campbellite. If there's anything on earth that a woman has a right to do, it is to love a democrat."

Attacks Republicans

He brought a light attack on the republican party as to their method of procedure. "Why they even defrauded Teddy Roosevelt out of the election of 1912 in Chicago," he said. But "Teddy wasn't the kind to stand for such treatment; he formed the Bull Moose party and nearly ruined the Grand Old Party." "When you vote for the man you are not voting for the man, but you are voting for a stand-pat republican."

The speaker told of his fight in behalf of woman suffrage, and of his fight in the senate against the inflation and deflation process that disrupted the financial condition of this country.

It is estimated that the dog has been man's companion for about 7000 years.

LIGHT RAINS COVER STATE

Clear Weather Promised for Tuesday Night Following Drizzle for a Whole Day in State.

OKLAHOMA CITY — A long looked for rain fell last night and early today throughout the north-central and western parts of Oklahoma, according to reports to the United States weather bureau here. The rain varied from light showers to 1.85 inches here, the heaviest recorded officially.

Reports from the southwestern part of the state, the driest area indicated that a good rain had fallen. The only official report was from Lawton where 64 inches had been recorded up to 7 o'clock this morning, but weather bureau officials expressed belief that the rain was general throughout that section. Farther north, a lighter fall was indicated. Weatherford reporting .33 inches precipitation. The North Canadian river here, which had been virtually dry had two feet of water in the channel at seven o'clock the weather bureau announcement said and a material relief from a threatened local water famine was indicated.

Clear weather tonight with lower temperatures and probable frost was forecast in the announcement. Sheridan, Wyoming, was the coldest place in the United States today the announcement said. At 7 o'clock this morning the temperature was 12 degrees above zero.

EFFORTS BEING MADE FOR RUST PREVENTION

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. — Members from thirteen north central states in the spring wheat area are expected to attend the second annual meeting of the conference for the prevention of grain rust, to be held here November 14.

Illinois members expected to attend are Governor Lem Small, Howard Leonard, president of the division of plant industry of the state department of agriculture; W. L. Burlison, of the state college of agriculture; James R. Howard, president and J. W. Coverdale secretary of the American Farm Bureau federation and E. H. Cunningham, president of the United States Grain Growers, Inc.

Eradication of common barberry bushes as a means of preventing black stem rust will be discussed and the years' work reviewed.
